

Sustainability & Adaptability on the Ladder Ranch

The Ladder Ranch

Raising cattle, sheep, horses, dogs and children

Since 1881

The O'Toole & Lally Family

The Little Snake River Valley

A working landscape: Home to livestock, wildlife, all manner of flora and fauna

And people

Our Watershed Battle Creek Overlook

Bulls and Sandhill Cranes on Battle Creek

Pat and Sharon: Partners for Conservation

Partners for Fish and Wildlife, USF&W
Colorado Cutthroat Trout Habitat Enhancement

Battle Creek Structure

Enhancing irrigation and the fishery

Busy beavers take advantage of the structure

Greater Sage Grouse

Birds of many feathers

Wyoming's most successful Mule Deer herd

Springtime in the Big Meadow

Ducks and cows enjoying the day

Raising alfalfa for the cows and sheep

Making hay while the sun shines

Cows at the Powder Flat headquarters

Trailing the ewes and lambs to the Forest

Back in the Day—George & Laura Salisbury

Three generations on the Ranch

Caution: Free Range Children

Partners of Ladder Livestock

Little Snake River Conservation District

Bureau of Land Management

United States Forest Service

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service

State of Wyoming

State of Colorado

Nature Conservancy

Colorado Cattlemen's Land Trust

Audubon Wyoming

Elk Foundation

Mule Deer Foundation

Wyoming Game & Fish

Carbon County Weed & Pest

Northwest Colorado Weed

Environmental Protection Agency

Wyoming Department of Environmental Quality

Partners for Fish and Wildlife